

Speaker Release for Video and Audio Recording

As a speaker at the Canadian League Against Epilepsy (CLAE) on October 13-15, I hereby grant the CLAE, license to capture all of my presentation content through video and audio recording and that such recordings will be owned by the CLAE. I grant the CLAE the right to use my content in such recordings as well as in associated material (including but not limited to PowerPoint, handouts and/or video files) in the publishing of event-based materials for/from the event described above for distribution to registered attendees and/or at a later time as educational based materials with other CLAE stakeholders. The CLAE may use some or all of these components either in whole or in part, synchronized or not.

I represent and attest that I have the right to grant such permission based on copyright law and that I have obtained permission to use any third-party material for the purposes as set out herein.

I hereby indemnify and hold harmless the CLAE, its directors, officers, agents, employees, clients and all other stakeholders from all copyright claims of every kind on account of such use and from liability of any kind, including any and all claims and losses accruing or resulting to any person, firm or corporation that may be injured or damaged by speaker in the performance of this presentation.
